Latest UL certifications of Commend products

Hello Boaz,

We are pleased to announce that the UL certification of our Commend IP amplifiers as well as the AFIL-USB module has been successfully completed.

Even though this certification is especially important in the North American region, we can benefit globally. The UL certification demonstrates that our products meet strict standards for product safety and it can be also a differentiator to products of many low cost competitors. UL is done in addition to our usual product safety standards.

IP AMPLIFIERS

Following variants have been certified: AF 125H, AF 250H and AF 500H

Actually the certification has been completed already end of 2021 – but we had to implement minor changes.

Products delivered as of now, come with the UL logo on the product label, stating the certification. For traceability the product revision index has been increased to “AC”.

Note:

Due to UL, the connector for the 24V DC backup power supply is now covered with a small plate, which can be removed if required.

USB AUDIO INDUCTION LOOP KIT

The AFIL-USB module which can be used in combination with our Symphony MX products (od1, od5, od10, id5, Series WS 300V CM and im6) has been UL certified as well.

Products delivered as of now, come with the UL logo on the product label, stating the certification. For traceability the product revision index has been increased to “AB”.
